

THOUSANDS of New Yorkers live with debilitating, life-threatening illness* and undergo painful medical treatments. Medical marijuana can alleviate the pain and suffering of many of these patients.

New York's medical marijuana law, passed in June 2014, allows you to talk to your patients about medical marijuana as a treatment option.

List of conditions that presently qualify: cancer, HIV infection or AIDS, amyotrophic lateral sclerosis (ALS), Parkinson's disease, multiple sclerosis, spinal cord injury with spasticity, epilepsy, inflammatory bowel disease, neuropathy, and Huntington's disease*
